ABOUT THE COURSE

Contracts can be difficult to understand. Their general appearance, style of writing, and use of legal terminology is off-putting. Sometimes, they seem to be written in impenetrable code by lawyers for other lawyers.

This short course explains why contracts look the way they do. It highlights the useful features of a contract and the unnecessary features that reflect 'tradition'. Participants will also learn how to apply the basic conditions of the Employment Act in the workplace.

WHY CHOOSE THIS COURSE?

Participants will discuss the different stages in the life of a contract, and some of the activities that are encountered at each stage. These stages include drafting, negotiating, approving, signing, administering, performing, amending, terminating and litigating contracts.

WHAT WILL I LEARN?

- Definition of Contract
- Elements for the existence of a valid Contract
- Terms in a Contract and regulatory frameworks for Validity, Expressed Conditions, Warranties, Innominate Terms, Exclusion/Exemption Clauses, Liquidated Damage Clause and Price Variation Clauses
- Discharge of Contracts: Agreement, Breach, Performance & Frustration
- Basic conditions of the Employment Act
- The essential terms and variation of the Employment Contract
- Legislation that regulates employment issues
